Andean Lakes Trekking

Private - 8h

Pucón is only 76 kilometers from the Mamuil Malal Mountain Pass that borders with Argentina, one of the most beautiful in the region, surrounded by forests of Lenga and Araucaria trees.

We will do some trekking along a flat and relatively easy trail in this beautiful but little-visited area, to discover the Quillehue and Hidden lagoons. These are flanked by forests inhabited by Magellanic woodpeckers and other birds and animals. From the trail, you'll be able to see the impressive Lanin volcano, straddling the Chile-Argentina border, reaching 12,293 feet (3747 m) in altitude and with a huge glacier in its crater.

Full-day private exploration to some of the most spectacular landscapes in Chile's Lake District. Your journey begins at the Petrohue area, where you'll explore lush evergreen forests with magnificent views of Osorno Volcano and the emerald waters of the Petrohue River. Visit the famous Petrohue Waterfalls, where the river cascades over ancient volcanic lava formations, creating one of the region's most iconic natural attractions. Continue to the shores of Lake Todos los Santos, a pristine lake surrounded by native forests, snow-capped volcanoes, and dramatic mountain scenery. Take time to admire the breathtaking views and enjoy the peaceful atmosphere of this national park. The day concludes with a visit to Osorno Volcano, where you'll ascend the volcano's slopes for panoramic views over the surrounding lakes, mountains, and valleys. Frutillar, Puerto Octay & Llanquihue

We begin our journey bordering Lake Llanquihue towards the north, first visiting the village of Llanquihue, well known for the production of sausages and also as the origin of the Maullin River. This area belongs to the ancient Route of Settlers. We will have a short time to walk on the renovated pier and the promenade. We continue to visit a local Brewery, where we will learn about the production system, tour the facility and taste some of the varieties of beer offered.

We continue along the Llanquihue Lake to the town of Frutillar. This is a beautiful village that recalls the old Bavaria in Germany, from where the first settlers who arrived in this area came from. The town was founded in 1856 as a boarding pier, soon appearing tanneries, mills, and breweries. We will walk along beautiful old houses of German style, admiring the gardens and incomparable views of the Osorno and Puntagudo volcanoes.

As an option, you may visit the German Colonial Museum which portrays the life of the settlers and/or observe the Lake Theater, a modern structure built by the lake and which hosts the renowned Frutillar Musical Week every year, a Summer Festival presenting excellent classical music concerts from Chilean and foreign performers.

From here we will make our final stop in Puerto Octay, also located on the north shore of the lake, with a strong German influence. This town was the main gateway for agricultural products to the nearby and larger city of Osorno. We will view the old streets and the Plaza de Armas.

At the end of the tour, we will return to Puerto Varas.

Discover Chiloé Island & Puñihuil Penguin National Reserve

Private

Today's journey takes you up the Pan American 5 Highway to the port of Pargua. Here, you'll set off on a 30-minute ferry ride across the Chacao Channel to Chiloé Island. This striking archipelago showcases dense forests, rolling green hills, and caves steeped in legends. Stop in the town of Ancud to visit its museum and market, then soak up the view from Huaihuen Hill, which features landmarks like Fuerte San Antonio, an early 19th-century Spanish fort that played a significant role in the wars for independence.

Next, head to the Caulín Bird Sanctuary, a haven for over 60 migratory bird species that gather off its pebbly beach, including black-necked swans, flamingos, and herons. The bird theme continues with a trip to a penguin colony in nearby Puñihuil, which is the only place in the world where Magellanic and Humboldt species coexist. In the late afternoon, continue to Castro and have a relaxing evening in town.
